

Naomi Wilson...

...began taking Suzuki violin lessons at age 11. She has been teaching private lessons for ten years and has four years experience teaching elementary music in the public school system.

She holds a Bachelor of Music Degree in violin performance from the University of Miami, where she studied with Robert Rozek, a student of Ivan Galamian and Nathan Milstein. Her performance experience includes the Miami Symphony, the Miami Bach Society, and as concertmaster of the chamber orchestra I Giovanni. While at the University of Miami, she took Suzuki teacher training with Alan Leib, of the School for Strings in New York City. She is currently pursuing a Master of Music Education degree at James Madison University. She is certified in the Kodály Method, an approach to early childhood music. She believes that every student deserves exceptional music education.

Naomi Wilson holds a Virginia Collegiate Professional License for Instrumental Music PreK—12 and is Kodaly and Orff, Level 1 Certified.

She employs the Suzuki Method and welcomes new students at
